News Digest.

By the arrival of the steamer Prince Albert we have European dates of the 4th.—The London Post announces that England and France had formed an alliance in regard to Italian affairs, and are determined to prevent intervention. The British Ministry had sustained a defeat. Hungary is on the eve of another revolution. The Hanover cotton mills at Manchester have been destroyed by fire, involving a loss of £30,000.

The House took three ballots for Printer yesterday, without effecting an election.

The Senate has passed the Post Office Appropriation bill, and it has become a law.

A dangerous counterfeit on the ten dollar gold piece has been discovered in New York.

The Republican State Convention.

We desire to remind our Republican friends that the Primary meetings to elect delegates to the State Convention and initiate the work of organization for the Presidential campaign, are to be held on Saturday evening next, the 18th instant, at 7 o'clock. The meetings will be held at the usual places in the several Assembly Districts, and should be fully attended.

A Day After the Fair.

The News of yesterday publishes a communication from somebody in Washington County, about the contested seat from that county, which closes thus:

> Mr. Delany was permitted to a seat in the Assembly on the commencement of the session, and the matter referred to the proper committee—but the Republican majority being so large that they do not risk anything by doing justice to a Democrat, they seem to be determined to decide the contest between Messrs. Altenhofen and Delany but a short time before their adjournment, in order to give "the bird of their own flock" a good chance to pick out of the People's pocket the same money to which a member legally elected by the People is alone entitled.

The same number of the News contains the information that the Republican Assembly have confirmed Mr. ALTENHOFEN, the Democratic member, in his seat. The House has been ready to act upon the question, any time these three weeks past; but waited, as in fairness bound, for the report of "the proper Committee."

> A VERY GREAT CHANGE.—A very great change has come over the Republican newspapers since the organization of the House of Representatives at Washington.—News, of yesterday.

We think as much. The tone of the Republican newspapers, since the successful and satisfactory organization of the House, and the excellent effect which the election of a "Black Republican" Speaker has had upon Congress and the country, has become jubilant and confident in the extreme. They see clearly that all the Democratic outcry about Secession and Disunion was mere political clap-trap; and that the best prescription for effectually "saving the Union" and putting an end to sectional strife, is the election of a "Black Republican" President.—Hence they go on their way rejoicing.

DEATH OF A FAMOUS INVENTOR.—JAMES BOYDELL, the inventor of the steam traction engine, and one of the greatest mechanical worthies of the age, died in England about three weeks ago, of a decline, brought on by a cold caught by exposure on the Woolwich marshes, while waiting for the officials to test his engine. He was a man of simple and noble disposition, untiring industry and great genius. He was murdered in the prime of life by routine. Government officials hate all inventors. They accordingly made him wait for hours in the wind and rain while tantalizing him with experiments withheld. The fate of this man, working, like Archimedes, in the very ante-chamber of Death, feebly attempting to busy himself with his models of new inventions—one, it is believed, of immense value in the construction of locomotives—affects one much. For years he had labored, and, on the verge of fame, with success in his grasp—for this traction engine is at length approved—he dies a victim to the system by which the entrance to the Government departments in England is strewn with the bones of inventors. For one ARMSTRONG there are a hundred BOYDELLS.

EXTINGUISHING VESUVIUS.—Some of the German journals announce seriously that a company of English capitalists have made an application to the King of Naples for a concession for the extinction of Vesuvius. The principal seat of the fire of that volcano is situated several thousand feet below the level of the sea. By cutting a canal which would carry the water into the crater, the fire would be completely extinguished, and the operation, which would only cost two millions of francs, would restore to cultivation land of ten times that value.

GRAND NATIONAL HORSE FAIR.—The Northwestern Agricultural Society have definitely decided to hold a Horse Show upon an extensive scale, in Chicago, on their grounds at Cottage Grove, from the 12th to the 16th of June next, inclusive. A liberal list of premiums will be offered, of sufficient value to attract hither the finest horses in the country.

ANOTHER RUNAWAY IN CHICAGO.—On Tuesday Mr. J. F. NORTON and his daughter were thrown from a buggy on Indiana street and Mr. N. severely injured. A bystander, who had just seized the horse, was knocked down and run over.

IS THIS TRUE?—The St. John's Morning News says:

> A gentleman of intelligence and observation, informs us, from all the information he can obtain from medical men, now having many cases of small pox under treatment, that there is no house in the city where gas is burnt, of the ordinary consumption, in which the disease has yet found lodgment.—The gas, it is supposed, is a powerful disinfectant, and hence there is no contagion within the circle of its influence. He says that a person burning the gas may contract the disease abroad and take it home with him; but it will not be communicated to any other member of his family! If any of our readers have evidence to the contrary we should like to know it, as this is a subject well deserving of investigation.

SUPREME COURT—TUESDAY, FEB. 14.—Davis vs. Judd. Opinion by Chief Justice. Judgment affirmed with costs and 7 per cent. damages.

Pfeif vs. Harbolt. Opinion by Justice Cole. Judgment affirmed with costs.

Haywood vs. Ormsbee. Opinion by Justice Cole. Judgment affirmed with costs on re-argument.

The Watertown Post Office.

Correspondence of the Sentinel.

WATERTOWN, FEB 15th, 1860.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Well, the long agony is over and PETER ROGAN has been appointed by the President, and confirmed by the Senate, as Post Master of this city vice JAMES POTTER, Jr. removed. You will mark the distinction and note that it is Peter, not Patrick, who is the lucky man.

You let the cat out of the bag the other day, in the Sentinel, when you told how nicely your Post Master, STEEVER, who it seems was charged with the delicate and responsible duty of naming Gen. POTTER's successor, was humbugged when here, looking after a proper person on whom to bestow the office. He knew his friend "P. ROGAN," of course, for did they not both occupy seats in the Assembly of this State in the year 1858? And how was Mr. STEEVER to know that there are two P. ROGAN's? He never had seen but one! How perfectly natural, then, it was that when he was informed by one of that gentleman's staunch Democratic friends that the initial P. stood for Patrick, Mr. STEEVER should have been misled and forwarded the name of the wrong man to Washington!

The deception unfortunately leaked out in a few days afterwards, however, and found its way into the Sentinel, where PETER saw it. And PETER, as he had a right to be, was exceedingly chagrined thereat. He took the first train to Milwaukee, I am told, and explained to Post Master STEEVER that PETER and PATRICK ROGAN are two separate and distinct individuals, though brothers; and further suggested that the post office rose dubbed PETER would smell far sweeter to him than if it were called PATRICK. The telegraph was brought into requisition at once, and the name of PATRICK, which in the meantime had been sent into the Senate, was withdrawn, and that of PETER took its place. The result is, as I have already announced to you, the confirmation of the latter gentleman's appointment.

As I said before, Mr. ROGAN was a member of the Assembly in the year 1858, and as such voted for Col. STEEVER's resolutions sustaining the Lecompton policy of the present Administration. His appointment, therefore, under the circumstances, is one eminently fit to be made. It is just such an one as we should expect at the hands of BUCHANAN, though exceedingly distasteful to a majority of the Democracy here and the people at large. But we Republicans, I suppose, have no right to grumble. It is none of our funeral, and we, of course, cannot expect to have any control over its exercises.—Let the Democrats manage it till the 4th of March, 1861, and we will endeavor then to relieve them of any further responsibility in this matter.

Yours, &c.
JEFFERSON.

Serious Accident at Ann Arbor.

Correspondence of the Detroit Free Press.

ANN ARBOR, Friday, Feb. 10.

The exercises of the annual exhibition of the Junior class of the University of Michigan, announced to take place at Union Hall, in this city, last evening, were suddenly interrupted by an accident of a serious nature, that at first promised to equal in extent and horror the recent calamity at Lawrence.

The large Hall, which is situated in the third story of the Union School building, was filled to its utmost capacity, there being probably about one thousand persons in attendance, and the exercises of the evening were about to begin, when a portion of the floor commenced settling. In a moment a scene of excitement and confusion presented itself that beggars description. A frantic rush was made for the stairways leading from the Hall. Fortunately the Steward of the University, with the Marshals of the evening, were standing at the head of the stairs, who, with commendable presence of mind, at once closed and locked the doors, seeing at a glance that a precipitate rush down the narrow and winding stairways would be as terrible in its consequences, if not more so, than to abide the result of the settling of the floors.

The panic was heightened by the falling of one of the large iron columns, of which there are seven, each about twenty feet in length, supporting the ceiling. The settling of the floor caused the loosening of the column near the north end of the hall from its fastening at the top, and, the ceiling above not settling to a proportionate extent, it was left standing unsupported, and by the jostling of the crowd was thrown from its perpendicular position, and fell over with its full weight upon those who were unable to escape from beneath it. Happily it struck in a window, and thus found a rest on the sill, so that those under it were saved from being crushed.

With the most persevering efforts partial order was again secured, sufficient to enable the remonstrances of the presiding officer to be heard, when the doors were opened and the assembly permitted quietly to disperse. It was not until a large proportion of the audience had retired that the result of the accident was fully ascertained, when it was found that four persons were badly injured. They were removed at once to the neighboring residences and medical aid summoned. The following are the wounded:

John Chase, a boy about fourteen years of age, son of Mr. J. M. Chase, the former Treasurer of the University; skull badly factured; no hopes are entertained of his recovery.

John Allen, another son; some cuts and contused wounds on the head; severely but not dangerously wounded.

Miss Wildt; hand and fingers crushed.

A lady whose name we did not learn, was struck on the shoulder. She was taken out in an insensible condition.

Several others, whose names were not ascertained, are reported to have been slightly injured.

The Vote for Printer—The Death of Senator Broderick.

Special Dispatch to the Cincinnati Gazette.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.

No election was effected of Printer to the House to-day, Defrees lacking two votes of the necessary number.

Glossbrenner, the late Sergeant-at-Arms, was sustained by a combination of Democrats and South Americans. All of the latter voted for him except Etheridge, Stokes, and Winter Davis.

Charles Francis Adams and Mr. Carey, of Ohio, refused to vote for Defrees. It is, however, thought he will be elected to-morrow.

The most noticeable speech in the Senate upon the death of Broderick was that of Toombs, coming as it did from a political enemy. He paid a high tribute to the honesty and courage of the deceased, and expressed his hearty concurrence in the resolution.

I heard general surprise expressed that neither Douglas nor Pugh, though both were present, had a word to say.

RUNAWAY.—On Wednesday last, Erastus O. Vaughn, of Spring Prairie, came to this village for the purpose of drawing home a load of lumber. In going to the lumber yard, and while in the neighborhood of the R. R. Depot, his horses became frightened at a large snow ball that some boys had rolled up and left in the road. Mr. Vaughn was sitting on a board across the hind bolsters, and as the horses started to run, Mr. P. M. Perkins, who was with him, raised up to adjust something about the wagon, which of course allowed the board upon which they were sitting, to cant, and Mr. Vaughn was precipitated beneath the wheels. He hung to the lines, however, and was dragged a considerable distance, his head, a portion of the time, acting as a block to one of the hind wheels. He succeeded, however, in stopping the team, but not until his head had been horribly cut, the scalp in some places being torn from the skull, and the wounds filled with gravel. The wheel also passed over his head, but all this time he retained his self-possession, and tenaciously clung to the lines. He was brought up to town and carried into Grassie & Darling's store, where Dr. Darling proceeded to cleanse and dress his wounds, and as his skull was not fractured, we opine that he will rapidly recover.—Burlington Gazette, Feb. 14.

The barber who dressed the head of a barrel, has been engaged to fix up the locks of a canal.

THE CITY.

THE REV. GEO. T. RIORDAN lectured last evening at Albany Hall on "The Spirit of the Age," to a large audience. As there are no reporting facilities in the Hall, we are unable to furnish our readers with a report, and to rehearse the splendid effort from memory would be to do it great injustice.—Mr. RIORDAN possesses a fine, full voice, and what is of more consequence, knows how to use it. His delivery was charming, and when it is known that his subject matter was elaborated and wrought up in that kind of eloquence which fires the mind of the listener, some idea may be formed of the effect his lecture produced. There were many points touched upon which were part of the speaker's own creed, and several premises advanced which we think untenable, but the lecture, as a whole, may be called a splendid success.

THIRD WARD PUBLIC SCHOOLS.—It having become necessary to close the Public School in the Third Ward, in consequence of the unsafe condition of the building, and to provide other accommodations for the children, the Ward Commissioners, Councilors and School Superintendent have been busy, for some days past, looking up suitable rooms. As there is no building in the Ward which will accommodate all the children, the School must necessarily be divided. It is probable, though not yet definitely settled, that the Grammar Department of the School will be provided for in the Welch Congregational Church on Jefferson Street; the Intermediate Department in the large frame building of Mr. JOHN JENNINGS, on Detroit street; and the Primary Department in Mr. SIVYER's new and substantial block on Main st. The Schools will all open again on Monday next.

THE NEW DRUG STORE.—We yesterday inspected the new store of MORTON and FOWLER, adjoining the Post Office on Wisconsin street. The interior presents a very fine appearance as one enters, the harmonious arrangement of colors, duplicated by immense mirrors, produces a rich effect. Messrs. MORTON and FOWLER have exhibited a great deal of taste and skill in the furnishing and decorating of their new store and deserve much credit for their perseverance. The counters are tinted with a lively hue, and the floor is tesselated with light and dark marble. The jars and other fixtures are of the most ornate finish. Indeed the whole arrangement of the store, the dispensing department and the exterior show, is even better than that before the disastrous fire.

THE MOUNT VERNON FESTIVAL.—This elegant entertainment comes off, at Albany Hall, to-morrow (Friday) evening, and promises to be the most attractive affair of the kind that we have ever had in Milwaukee.—The Ladies intend that nothing shall be left undone to make the Festival a perfect success; and if any of the Bachelors, or Benedicts, in the Legislature desire to see the beauty of Milwaukee, in general assembly convened, let them come to town and pay a visit to Albany Hall to-morrow night The decoration of the Hall will be commenced to-day, and the services of tasteful volunteers will be gladly accepted.

HABEAS CORPUS.—Yesterday morning JAMES WALTON, who was sentenced Tuesday morning in the Municipal Court, was brought up before R. N. AUSTIN, Esq., Court Commissioner, on a writ of habeas corpus, by his counsel, L. WYMAN, Esq., on the ground that the officers of the Municipal Court were elected before the law establishing said Court had gone into effect, and hence there are no legal officers of such Court who can have jurisdiction in such cases. This writ was made returnable yesterday forenoon, but as the District Attorney was otherwise engaged, the case was adjourned to 7 o'clock this evening.

RELIGIOUS.—The churches were well attended yesterday. Sermons were preached in one or two, and the rest that observed the day did so by prayer meetings. We are informed that a very general interest among the church attendants is being manifested in the cause of religion and that the weekly meetings for prayer are well attended by anxious enquirers.

We are also told by a gentleman from Janesville that a revival is progressing in that place.

THE TWENTY-SECOND OF FEBRUARY.—The Milwaukee Light Guard, at their meeting on Tuesday night, resolved to celebrate the Birthday of WASHINGTON by a parade. They also appointed a Committee to memorialize the Legislature for a Law, making the Twenty-Second of February a legal Holiday. We are decidedly in favor of this addition to our scanty list of American Holidays, and hope that the Legislature will give the matter a prompt and favorable consideration.

A CHALLENGE.—I, ADAM KLEISER, not being satisfied with my defeat at the Newhall House Tables, on the 16th inst., hereby challenge WILLIAM W. SEAVER, of Janesville, to play me a game of Billiards, American four ball full game, one thousand points, up. Man and money ready at CHARLEY HARRIS' City Lunch, Milwaukee. Game to be played at Albany Hall four weeks from the first deposit, which shall be $25, to be forfeited on non-appearance of either party. The game to come off at Albany Hall on one of OTIS FIELD's tables. ADAM KLEISER.

Milwaukee, Feb. 16, '60.

POCKET-BOOK LOST.—The ladies who picked up a large pocket-book in front of a Boarding House on Reed street, containing $30 in bills and a note and other papers of value, will please return it to the Flour store of H. A. SAWYER, near the old Menomonee Machine Shop, for which they will be liberally rewarded.

MUNICIPAL COURT.—The Court room was crowded yesterday, to listen to the evidence in the KAVANAUGH case. The defense offer a great many rebutting witnesses. The case will probably be brought to a close to-day.

Ernst Bukow was brought up for whipping his wife, and sent to Jail for thirty days.

WE UNDERSTAND that another partial change in the proprietorship of the Free Democrat has taken place, Mr. A. M. THOMSON having sold out his interest in the sheet to a gentleman of this city by the name of FITCH.

DEATH OF CHRISTINA PULTZ.—Miss PULTZ, the young woman who was awfully burned on Tuesday night by the explosion of a lamp of burning fluid, died at 5 o'clock yesterday morning from the injuries received.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—E. A. MARTIN.—Communication respectfully declined.

BONA FISHER.—Try again; well written, but on a poor subject.

PERSONAL.—Hon. CARL SCHURZ was in town yesterday. He looks as though traveling had agreed with him, and speaks well of the prospects elsewhere.

IN TOWN AND OUT OF IT.—MARK M. POMEROY arrived yesterday from some unknown bourne.

VALENTINES!—VALENTINES!—VALENTINES!—A splendid assortment of Valentines, comic and sentimental, to suit the taste of all, which we are selling at very low figures to suit the times. Arrival of the Steamship Arago.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15—3 P. M.

The steamer Arago, from Havre and Southampton, arrived here this morning. News anticipated.

On the question of Central Italy, Count Cavour observes that the inhabitants of Central Italy had accepted the Congress with confidence, but important events followed which caused its adjournment. The pamphlet, "Le Pope et le Congress," of which, without seeking its authority, no one can contest the importance of the letter of Napoleon to the Pope. The speech of the Queen of England and the speech of Lord Palmerston in the House of Commons, are facts which show the impossibility of the restoration of the ancient rule in Central Italy. It is certain that the Congress will not be assembled for the present. The government of Central Italy, being satisfied of their part, wish also to satisfy these provinces by proclaiming the law of Sardinia, for political reasons, for the present. Announcing these facts, Count Cavour concludes by stating that he will never fail in his responsibility for the tranquility of Europe and the pacification of Italy.

Baron Picasoli, in presenting flags to the National Guard of Florence, said, we require great prudence and large forces to preserve independence. A great deal remains to be done. The annexation of the provinces of Italy to Piedmont is necessary to guaranty Italian nationality, the defence of which has become a common duty.

The Prussia Gazette says that Government is on the point of acceding to the commercial treaty between England and France.

A Berlin dispatch says it is asserted that the arrangement between France and Sardinia, respecting the cession of Savoy, was agreed upon previous to the war in Italy, and was to be executed in case Austria should entirely evacuate Italy. It was also agreed that Chablais and Fairqui should be added to Switzerland.

Remodelling the Court of Claims.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16—3 P. M.

The Times Washington correspondent says: In the Senate Mr. Bayard reported a bill to remodel the Court of Claims. It provides for five Judges instead of three. The judgment of the Court is to be final, unless the amount involved be over $3,000. The agreement of three Judges is to be necessary to the rendition of a judgment. Claims are to be paid out of the general appropriation, by the law for the satisfaction of private claims. Should this bill fail to become a law, then an effort will be made to abolish the Court.

Fire at Elizabeth City, N. C.

NORFOLK, VA., Feb. 14.

A destructive fire has occurred at Elizabeth city, N. C. Four houses were burnt, involving great loss to Messrs. Galkins, Cobb, Pool, Wheeler and others. Many families are without shelter and means of support. The insurance was but partial. The fire was the work of an incendiary, and great excitement has been evinced.

New Counterfeit Gold Coin.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15—3 P. M.

A dangerous counterfeit of the $10 gold piece was discovered yesterday. In fact, externally it was a standard coin, and on being cut in two the cheat was made palpable. The piece had evidently been split edgewise, both parts filed quite thin, and in place of the sterling gold a piece of white metal placed between the halves, and remelted.

BY LAST NIGHT'S REPORT

Congressional Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15—9 P. M.

HOUSE.—Mr. Adams, of Ky., presented the petition of the delegation from Jefferson, and the memorial of the provisional government of that Territory, asking that it be recognized as such; also, a memorial authorizing the inhabitants thereof to call a convention, and form a Constitution preliminary to admission into the Union. Referred to the Committee on Territories.

There was a call of the House preparatory to taking a vote for Printer.

Mr. Wilson moved to postpone the matter until to-morrow.

Mr. Burch had heard several gentlemen say that an election was to take place to-day. He wished to know whether that agreement was only on one side.

Mr. Sherman and Mr. Barksdale severally said that such was the general understanding.

Mr. Wilson's motion was disagreed to, and the House proceeded to vote.

Whole number 181; necessary to a choice 91; Defrees, 90; Glossbrenner 89. Messrs. Etheridge and Gilmer voted for Gales and Seaton. The House again voted, with the same result, except that Mr. Etheridge cast a vote for Gales and Seaton. If this had been thrown for Mr. Defrees he would have been elected, if for Mr. Glossbrenner it would have made a tie.

John Cochrane suggested a postponement.

Mr. Hill not hearing of any absentees likely to arrive, urged that there be one more vote to-day.

Mr. Stanton remarked he had paired off with Mr. Scott. He now terminated that arrangement and would vote for Defrees, having assurances that the prices of the printing would be so reduced that there could hereafter be no plunder. Another vote was taken amid some confusion. Whole number 182, necessary to choice 92; Defrees 91; Glossbrenner 90.

Mr. Etheridge voted for Gales and Seaton.

The subject was then passed over for to-day.

In pursuance of an order previously adopted, a large number of bills and resolutions were introduced, and among them a bill by Mr. Morrill, donating lands for the promotion of the arts and sciences, to the various States, and a bill for the prevention of polygamy in the Territories.

Mr. Walton offered a resolution which was referred to the Committee on Commerce, to inquire into the expediency of action to prevent the importation of adulterated tea.

Mr. Fenton introduced a bill for the settlement of the claims of officers and soldiers of the Revolutionary army, and the widows and children of those who died in the service; also a Pacific Railroad bill. Referred to Committee on Military Affairs.

Mr. Briggs introduced a bill for the establishment of a branch mint in New York. Referred to Committee on Commerce.

Mr. Reynolds introduced a bill for the improvement of the Hudson River near Albany, and a bill for the erection, in that city, of a Postoffice, Custom House, and Court House.

Mr. Duell introduced a resolution requesting the Post Master General to communicate copies of all resolutions or instructions to the Post Masters, as to the opening and destroying of newspapers supposed to contain incendiary matter. Referred to the Committee on Post Offices.

Mr. Cochrane introduced a bill to amend the passenger laws, for the better protection and security of female passengers. A bill to establish the collecting districts of the United States, and to designate ports of entry and delivery of the same, and regulating the appointment and compensation of the officers of customs; also a bill for the simplification and codification of the revenue laws, and for other purposes.

Mr. Grow introduced a bill to prevent any sales of public lands except to actual settlers until 10 years after their survey; a bill for the admission of Kansas into the Union, and a homestead bill.

Mr. Florence introduced a French spoliation bill, and a bill granting pensions to the soldiers of the war of 1812. Mr. Florence also introduced a bill equalizing the army, navy and marine pensions, and a bill fixing and regulating the duties on imports.

Mr. Campbell presented the resolutions of the Legislature of Pennsylvania in favor of a protective tariff.

Mr. Morehead introduced a bill for the improvement of the navigation of the Ohio river.

Mr. Morris, of Pa., introduced an international copy-right bill.

Mr. Pryor offered a resolution calling on the President for the correspondence between our own and the British Government touching the occupation of the San Juan Island; also, a resolution instructing the Committee on Commerce to enquire what measures should be adopted with a view of a reduction of duties by foreign governments on tobacco.

The above were appropriately referred.

Mr. John Cochrane presented the petition of Mr. Wm. Jay Haskett and 18 others, of the 7th Ward of New York, asking for freedom of public lands.

SENATE.—Various reports, petitions and bills of a private character were presented.

On motion of Mr. Grimes, Mr. Davis' resolutions were made the special order for Monday next.

Mr. Hunter moved to postpone the prior order and take up the Post Office Deficiency Bill. Carried.

The House having refused to concur in the amendments, the Senate having abolished the franking privilege, Mr. Hunter moved the Senate recede from its amendments. He was unwilling to attempt to force legislation on the other House. Motion was agreed to. Yeas, 42; nays, 11.

Mr. Toombs moved to reconsider. He was opposed to the Senate receding. In the debate in the House a strong opposition was expressed, adverse to the franking privilege, but they were opposed to any legislation being incorporated in an appropriation bill. Now in this bill there was no general legislation. The amendment regulating the printing of blanks affected a radical change in the existing laws; therefore, he wished a reconsideration. The motion to reconsider was lost by yeas 14, nays 42.

Mr. Gwin now asked the House to proceed to the consideration of the bill to abolish the franking privilege; agreed to. The first amendment by the Con. on Post Offices and Post roads was, that the law abolishing the franking privilege should not apply to those to whom it was granted by name.

Mr. Gwin moved an amendment that during the session of Congress, and for 30 days before the meeting and 30 days after the adjournment, the President, Vice-President, heads of Departments and members of Congress, should be allowed to send free mail matter, not over two ounces in weight.

Mr. Gwin said if the object of the committee was to abolish the franking privilege, a further legislation was necessary; it could be done at another time.

Mr. Mason opposed the amendment.

Mr. Doolittle wanted to relive the P. O. Department of heavy burdens imposed upon it.

Mr. Hamlin moved to strike out all the bill except the few lines abolishing the franking privilege. He wanted to abolish the system in toto.

Mr. Chandler said that the expenses of the P. O. Department were owing to the system of jobbing which prevailed.

Mr. Pugh was in favor of striking out entirely.

Mr Hamlin's motion was carried.

Mr. Mason moved that hereafter nothing be passed free by mail. Carried.

Mr. Powell moved to amend that persons now entitled to the franking law, be excused from pre-payment to take effect on the 15th of April.

Mr. Iverson opposed this.

Mr. Clay wanted to get rid of letters of no consequence.

Mr. Brown was in favor of total abolition or nothing.

Mr. Hamlin objected to the amendment of the Senator from Ky.

Mr. Powell withdrew his amendment, except as to time for it to take effect, 15th April, which was agreed to.

Mr. Doolittle's amendment was rejected, the question recurring on the amendment, Mr. Hamlin moved to strike out the proviso in relation to whom the privilege is granted.

Mr. Benjamin said Mrs. Polk had the given here as a compliment.

Mr. Hamlin proposed to withdraw the motion, if she was the only person named.

Mr. Cameron said that they had better strike all out.

The amendment was then rejected.

Mr. Powell moved to amend the substitute of the committee, so the law would take effect on the 15th of April. Agreed to.

Mr. Mason moved to add "that hereafter nothing pass free in mails.

Mr. Cameron moved as an amendment, except newspapers.

Mr. Seward suggested to exempt newspapers, as is now done by law.

Mr. Cameron agreed to this.

Mr. Clay thought it would only tend to give increase the circulation of the N. York Tribune and Herald, which would not do much to improve the morals of the country.

Mr. Crittenden moved to adjourn. Lost.

Mr. Mason withdrew his amendment.

Mr. Trumbull moved as a new section that publishers of newspapers be allowed to print on the same the date of subscription; rejected.

The bill was then read a third time and passed, only two voting against it—Mr. Hemphill and Wilkinson, and fifty-three in favor of it. Adjourned.

The Times publishes the text of the McLane treaty, which verifies the summary of its stipulations published some time since.

A bloody affray occurred at Port Ewen, Ulster county, on Saturday afternoon last. Three young men from Esopus, having taken a sail in an ice-boat, fastened the boat to the dock at Port Ewen, and left it for a while. Three other young men took the boat and sailed about, when one of the first named party, named Rilzea, returned and threatened to drive them out. One of the men stabbed him, mortally. Rilsea's brother and his friend came to the scene, and in the melee which followed the latter was frightfully wounded. Hiram Rilzea then shot one of the men and started for Rondout, where he gave himself up to the authorities. He was also badly hurt. The names of the attacking party are unknown.

At the second board the stock further advanced 4 1-3 per cent.

There is to be an examination.

The Attorney General has given an opinion to the Secretary of the Treasury in favor of the payment to Taylor & Bros., of New York, of the amount of Treasury notes which had been stolen from a former owner, and transferred to them after maturity, on the ground that Treasury notes are not subject to equities between previous parties, and that payment should be made to actual holders.

Niece of Daniel O'Connell in the Chicago Police Court.

The Chicago Democrat of Tuesday relates the following:

In Chicago at this moment, lives an own niece of the renowned Daniel O'Connell, the great Irish patriot and reformer, whose eloquence aroused the peasantry of his nation to a pitch of excitement and resolution never before or since witnessed upon that Island. This person passes here by the name of Ellen Welch. She is a small woman, aged about 28 years. She is well educated and even accomplished—uses good and sometimes elegant language, speaks French elegantly, and, when she chooses to lay aside the acquired and unnatural brusqueness which she sometimes assumes, has all the bearing of a lady. She is the daughter of the sister of Daniel O'Connell, and her family now reside in Ireland. They remit to her, at regular intervals, a sum of money, which passes through the hands of Father Donne, a Catholic priest of this city, who gives it to her in such sums and at such times as she needs it most.

It appears that Ellen Welch, as she calls herself, met with some misfortune, or was induced to commit some error, while a young girl in Ireland, which forfeited the respect and friendship of her family. She either left them of her own accord, or was driven from her home, and came to New York, where she shortly afterwards married a man named Welch, who was of a birth and station far below her own, but who was a very worthy, industrious and respectable man. They came to Chicago after their marriage, and here her husband was drowned in the river. Ellen maintained herself by sewing for a time, but finally fell in with disreputable characters, who fleeced her out of her clothing.—She took to drinking and by gradual descents soon fell to a low depth.

We know from indubitable sources that this woman, yesterday morning arraigned before the Police Court for being a common vagrant, is an own niece of Daniel O'Connell, the great Irish orator and reformer, her mother, Mary O'Connell, being his sister.—Her parents occupy Castle Kearney, in Ireland, and are known through the length and breadth of Ireland as a family of opulence and widely esteemed for their many acts of kindness. Thus this woman, descended from an illustrious line of ancestors, has gone down through the various stages of life until she has reached the bottom, and now in this city of Chicago, thousands of miles away from her native home, this representative of a noble family, connected most intimately with the most illustrious genius of Ireland, is a common street vagrant.

Another Touch of "Chivalry."

BAYARD TAYLOR has just received the honors of "martyrdom" at the hands of the Young Men's Christian (!) Association of Richmond, Virginia. Mr. TAYLOR had received and accepted an invitation to lecture before this Association, during the present winter. Suddenly, however, the officers have discovered that Mr. TAYLOR is connected with the New York Tribune, suspected of abolitionism, and accused of skepticism—the latter charge being founded upon his lecture on HUMBOLDT—and thereupon, without further parley, this Virginia Association of Young "Christians," deliberately break their engagement with Mr. TAYLOR, and notify him that he is not wanted in Richmond.

This shabby treatment, on the part of the "Chivalry", has elicited a scathing communication from Mr. TARLOR, which is published in the Tribune, and which closes thus:

> "In conclusion, let me say, that I have traveled in all the principal portions of the earth—that I know all forms of government and all religious creeds, from personal observation and study; but that nowhere, in any of the lands or races most bitterly opposed to Republicanism and Christianity, have I been subjected to a narrower or more insulting censorship.
> Yours for free thought and enlightened Christianity,
> BAYARD TAYLOR.

"It is instructive to remark" that the Democratic press are silent, as usual, about this last characteristic performance of "the Chivalry." It would seem that our Northern Doughfaces, if they cannot openly approve, are ready tacitly to acquiesce in, any and every outrage and aggression of their Southern taskmasters.

Partisan Misrepresentation.

"Sioux," heretofore an itinerant scribbler for the Wisconsin, News and other journals, turns up in the columns of yesterday's News, as a "Madison correspondent," and favors the readers of that paper with one of his characteristic effusions. The staple of his communication is wholesale and vulgar abuse of the Republican party, which "Sioux" can never forgive for driving him and his from place and power and "turning them out to grass." We quote a single specimen of "Sioux:"

> This negro party is now scarce four years old. It was conceived in corruption, born amidst confusion, strife and contentions, and nursed by political blacklegs until it now proposes to walk alone. Previous to this winter, some of its members, by fraud, violence, and in some instances, perjury, had forced their way into important places of honor and trust, but there were so few of them, and they being so well surrounded by a good, healthy atmosphere, that corruption, to a great extent, was kept in the distance, but now, all barriers seem to have been broken down, and corruption stalks in high places at all hours of the day and night.

It is quite unnecessary to say that this is wholesale and willful misrepresentation. The "places of honor and trust" about the Capitol, now occupied exclusively by Republicans—to the infinite disgust and chagrin of such as "Sioux"—have never, since Wisconsin became a State, been filled by abler, more honest, industrious and intelligent officers.—"Corruption," instead of stalking about the Capitol, as in the days of Democratic rule, is resolutely excluded from its precincts. The "atmosphere" about Madison has never been so "healthy" as it is this year.

To be Expected.

> The Sentinel will insist that Mr. Smith, voted for by by the Democrats for Speaker, was a K. N. Mr. Smith said he was not, but we suppose as some K. N.'s voted for him, that is enough for the Sentinel to manufacture its assertion from.—News.

Mr. SMITH is an "awkward customer" for the News. The solid vote which he received from the Democratic members, notwithstanding his avowed Know-Nothingism, is an ugly fact which the News can neither explain, nor deny. It is a final and conclusive reply to the stereotyped outcries of the Sham-Democratic organs about Know-Nothingism. It has effectually spiked their most serviceable artillery. Mr. SMITH, as everybody knows, never said that he was not a Know-Nothing, being "gagged" by his friends; but the Democrats understood perfectly that he was a member of the "Dark Lantern" party, and their regular nominee for Speaker. Yet they voted for him in a body, and thereby, as the N. Y. Tablet charges, basely betrayed their constituents and abandoned their principles.

INDEPENDENT ITALY.—The light of freedom in Italy grows brighter. The famous French pamphlet called "Le Pape et le Congress," the Emperor's letter to the Pope, the retirement of WALEWSKI from the French Ministry, the return of CAVOUR to the Sardinian Ministry, the delay of the Congress, and the firm, self-reliant attitude of the people of Central Italy, are all auspicious signs. But the formal announcement of the Queen of England, in her speech to Parliament, that Great Britain will "endeavor to obtain for the people of Italy freedom from foreign interference, by force of arms, in their national concerns," is the last and most encouraging sign of all.

Senator Seward.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Commercial Advertiser writes as follows:

> "General circulation is given to the rumor that Senator Seward will not be nominated at Chicago, and your correspondent does not presume to contradict it. But the Senator's frineds have never been more sanguine than they now are of his nomination, and of his election by the people. Thinking men perceive that the recent outcry raised against Senator Seward throughout the country, can but have attracted careful attention to his 'record,' and that on his public career there can be but one verdict—an election to the Presidential chair.
> The National Executive Committee recently appointed by the Republican members of Congress to conduct the coming Presidential contest, is a sufficient indication that in the Capitol there is no intention of ignoring the high claims of the distinguished Senator from New York.
> Senator Seward, is pleasantly domiciled on F. street, between 13th and 14th, where he lives in true Republican style, dispensing cordial hospitalities to his personal friends, and those with whom he is associated in public life. On Friday evenings he is 'at home,' and his parlors are crowded with notables of all parties."

HYPOCRISY OF DOUGLAS.—While Douglas now and then makes a show of resisting the fire-eaters, he manages to assure them of his readiness to concur in a policy that will extend Slavery, should he be elected President. The Mobile Register, a Douglas paper, says:

> "Above all, it is important for the Southern States to have a man in the Presidency who will take advantage of European troubles to favor a policy which will give slave labor the control of the central portions of this continent. And one of the reasons for the Southern support of Mr. Douglas may be found in the service he has heretofore rendered to such a policy, and in the courage and firmness of character which does not change its settled convictions for the idle emotions of the hour. The past of the Illinois Senator is the best guaranty of his future; and his whole career satisfies us as to the vigorous foreign policy he would pursue in case he were elected President."

LETTER FROM NYM CRINKLE.

His Shabbiest Letter—Telling how he happened to get to Chicago, and of several things he saw there: among them, the Steamship Milwaukee; the Octaroon.

CHICAGO, Feb. 14, 1860.

DEAR MILWAUKEE SENTINEL:—One day last November I projected a personal and solitary invasion of Walker's Point, and at once set out on the enterprise. The object was to make discoveries for the benefit of the SENTINEL readers.

I loitered on the bridge, looking at the majestic frigates and mud-scows riding proudly at anchor on the dull, smooth face of the river. It made one think favorably of 'A Life on the Ocean Wave," etc., etc. Partly from that glorious contemplation, and partly from the serious consideration that

> "Life can little more supply
> Then just to look about us and to die,"

I was filled with the lofty desire to sail over foreign seas.

I stepped aboard the schooner Preble, then being made fast to a tug, below Walker's Point bridge, and asked a sailor whither she was bound. He replied, "To the classic shores of Patagonia, sir." My further inquiries being of a naughtycal character, he referred me to the cook, who, he said, was a sea-faring man. On my accosting that officer, a fleshy African, he simply remarked "get out o' dis eer galley." I returned to the sailor and questioned the truth of his first statement; but he confirmed it with such a tremendous oath, that my doubts as to the destination of the Preble were completely scattered.

Being destitute of money, and driven to desperation, I bribed the sailor with two chews of tobacco, to smuggle me a passage. He promised to conceal me in an empty barrel of tar for a few weeks till we should get outside the Gulf of St. Lawrence, when, rather than put into port to leave a deadhead, the captain, he said, would send me into the galley to help the cook. Thereupon he led me down into the hold, tipped the tar barrel over horizontally, and steered me as I backed into it on my hands and knees, in which position he left me, and I remained.

I heard the water rippling and gurgling about the hull, as the vessel glided through it, and was pleased to think that when I should again come forth to the light of day, we would be off the mild paradise of Nova Scotia.

Presently I perceived we had stopped, and all was still: not a voice nor a foot-step was to be heard in the whole vessel. After waiting several hours in dead suspense—still on my hands and knees, I attempted to crawl forth from my tar barrel, when I found I had become fast, and could not move either hand or knee. This was dreadful. There I was, "Like a pelican of the wilderness, like an owl of the desert." I cried out, and a man came who drew me out by my head, tearing the skin from my hands, and the knees from my pantaloons. He shook me vigorously, demanding in thunder tones what I was there for. He marched me over the plank to the dry land, by the knap of the neck. I concluded that we were in Kilbourntown, that the Preble was laid up for the winter, and this was her watchman. He looked threatening, and alluded to the Police Court. I alluded to lager bier and whiskey toddy. Then he thought me a Democrat. We locked arms and walked over to a saloon, where we remained day and night, continually, for several weeks.

On coming out I was dismayed to find the river had covered itself up and gone to sleep for the winter; so navigation between Kilbourntown and Milwaukee was entirely closed. At first I saw no other way for me than to remain in Kilbourntown till spring; but the Wisconsin at that time foresaw a speedy completion of the horse railroads, and I waited patiently for the one that was to connect Kilbourntown with Walker's Point. How I used to climb the hill to Mr. COMSTOCK's house, day after day, to see Walker's Point, far away, and wonder how I should ever get there!

At last it occurred to me that I could travel entirely by railroad, from Kilbourn town to Walker's Point. Accordingly, I left the place of my dreary sojourn, by the Milwaukee and Minnesota Railroad, for the Fond du Lac Junction, 54 miles northwest, where I changed to the Chicago and Northwestern cars, and came to this city. From here it is only four hours ride to Walker's Point.

The only item of interest I picked up on the way, is that a new large hotel has been opened at the Fond du Lac Junction, and some people are endeavoring to build up a village there. They say it is within a mile of the precise centre of Dodge county, and as the county buildings at Juneau are becoming miserable, they propose new ones be built at the Junction, and it be made the county seat. A meeting of citizens favorable to the object, was soon to assemble, when I was there.

After a swift and very satisfactory ride over the Chicago & Northwestern Railway, I found myself surrounded by brick walls again; and lo, a strange spectacle! In every street I saw great numbers of people ascending and descending continually, like the beings JACOB saw, only those were on a safe ladder, and these on the perilous sidewalks of Chicago—one, two, three story sidewalks; sidewalks with basements, and sidewalks without basements; sidewalks with no railing to keep people from falling off into the street, hence the gutters in many places are literally filled with human skeletons, presenting a ghastly sight.

The various grades of the sidewalks are connected by planks, at half pitch, with cleets. The men climb up, on their hands and feet, (their toe-nails being kept sharp) and the ladies ride on sharp-shod mules.

There is a bountiful insufficiency of money here. Notice is given at the hotels that citizens of Chicago must pay their bills in advance. Yet, if you signify that you reside in Wisconsin, a greater annoyance follows. It will be reported on change that a man from Wisconsin has registered his name on the books at the ——— House; you will be supposed to have money; the merchants will hurry back to their stores and put on their best clothes; as you pass through the streets the proprietors and salesmen will be standing at the doors of all the stores on both sides of the streets, holding out their various wares in expectation of a sale for cash.

People here meet their notes admirably.—They meet them right in the street, and everywhere else, with perfect complacency.—They gracefully 'pass their hands,' and I 'go it alone.' But the temptation to spend money in this city is very great; had'nt been here half an hour, when down went five cents for gingerbread.

Chicago, like everything else, has two sides, respectively called one side and the other side. One side being on one side of the Galena and Chicago Union Railroad, and the other side on the other side of it. I am writing this on one side, as copy for newspapers always should be written.

This division is more completely effected than merely by the iron rails. Half a dozen locomotives are kept rolling over the track, back and forth, like terrible sentinels of Mars. They are constantly switching cars from one track to another, making up and distributing trains. On an average three parallel rows of freight cars, on the tracks, are stretched through the city, all the time. It is an improvement on the great wall of China, because it is movable; indeed I am told that two or three times, every day, the way is clear for a few minutes, at any of the important streets that cross the G. & C. U. R. R.; this is very convenient, as it enables passengers and vehicles that have been accumulating, to pass through.

Chicago having been raised "out of a horrible pit, out of the miry clay," it is asserted by her traducers that the water is unhealthy; a very shallow slander; it is of no consequence whether the water is healthy or not, since very little of it is drank; it is a liquid scarcely used here, except for navigation and lavatory purposes. Two fires have occurred since I have been here, and in both cases the engines laid their suction hose to the nearest lager bier saloon.

I went the other day to see the steamship Milwaukee. She has been thoroughly examined, and found to be perfectly sea-worthy; not a timber was strained through all her spasmodic convulsions while stranded at Grand Haven. The damage to her engines is being repaired by machinists from Buffalo, and will cost about $1,500. The work on her will be finished soon, but as she is a mile and a half up the river, and the ice is two feet thick all the way, it would be a very expensive job to get her out into the lake before the river breaks up, which will be in a month or six weeks.

I have been to see that famous play, "The Octaroon." It is having a great run at McVICKER's. A play in which Miss KIMBERLY acts cannot fail to be attractive. Aside from that, the Octaroon is intensely interesting. It is sensation from beginning to end, and the startling events come in such rapid succession that the "business" of the stage could scarcely flag, even in the hands of an ordinary company. The language contains two or three approximations to poetry, but they are dragged in, and when anything affecting comes, you feel ashamed to see it in such poor company; for, altogether, it is one of those distorted and exaggerated representations of modern life that "hold the mirror up to Nature" with a vengeance, and would find their appropriate applause in roars and "High! High!" of the Chatham and Bowery "groundlings" NYM CRINKLE.

Riding Two Horses.

Mr. Douglas' friends are ingeniously making a letter of the late Gen. Quitman do double duty.

The letter recommends Douglas for the Presidency, and giving Gen. Q.'s reasons therefor. But two editions of the letter are now published, one intended for the North and the other for the South. Neither version gives the whole language of the original. In one it skilfully mutilated so as to affirm that Douglas holds the Northern, and in the other the Southern Democratic views of Slavery in the Territories.

The one is publshed at the South by the Natchez Free Trader to show that Douglas opposes the Squatter Sovereignty idea, and insists that Slavery should be protected in the Territories. The other, which is published in the Cincinnati Enquirer, and intended for the North, omits the entire passage containing the statement of Douglas' opinions:

Extract of letter published in Natchez Free Trader

> WASHINGTON, March 24, '56.
> MY DEAR SIR:— * * * * I believe that at this day the Northern Democracy are sounder and more reliable on the Slavery question than they ever have been. The Kansas bill has driven off all the compromisers, and left those that remain no alternative but a full vindication of our whole rights. I believe, therefore, they will prefer a bold, ultra Southerner to a renegade.
> In a short conversation with Douglas yesterday, he said to to me that what he most feared was that the timid Southern men would fall back.
> I shall be content with Buchanan, and will sustain Pierce, if nominated. It is also my interest to be non-committal; but when I write to an old friend like yourself, I will be frank. My preference is for Douglas. He is bold, fearless, and self-reliant. Were he selected he would be President. He would not come into office with a body-guard of old fogies and politicians, ready to seize upon all the offices. He is true to the South. He demands not only the use and enjoyment of the common Territory for their property, but insists on its protection there. To him we are indebted for the Kansas bill, which now presents the points of contract. He is the true representative of this principle, and opposes the abominable principle of Squatter Sovereignty. * * * *
> Your friend, J. A. QUITMAN.

Extract published in the Cincinnati Enquirer.

WHAT HE WAS THEN HE STILL IS.—On the 24th of ———, 1856, General John A. Quitman, of Mississippi, wrote a letter to a private friend, since made public, in which he disclosed who was his choice for the Presidential nominee of the Cincinnati Convention. He said:

> My preference is for Douglas. He is bold, fearless, and self-reliant. Were he selected he would be President. He would not come into office with a body-guard of old fogies and politicians, ready to seize upon all the offices. He is true to the South. * * *
> He is, too, the man of progress, with us on the Cuban and Central American principles. I suggest that while the North is waging a relentless war against us, would it not be well to extend our political alliances rather to the young and growing West? Again, I believe that while he may have less control of the political wires he has more of the hearts of the people. Were he nominated, the bold, enthusiastic and thorough-going men of the hills and valleys would rise up and overwhelm all opposition. We have had enough of time-serving politicians. The country now demands bold, fearless, plain-spoken men—Jackson in action.
> "Your friend, J. A. QUITMAN."

This trick is an ingenious one, well calculated to make the South believe Douglas the enemy of Squatter Sovereignty and the champion of a Slave Code for the Territories, while the North is made to believe just the reverse. But unfortunately it has been spoiled by Mr. Douglas himself, since the two letters were put in circulation. In a recent speech his abandonment of the Popular Sovereignty Platform and declarations in favor of Pro-Slavery legislation by Congress are full and explicit.—Albany Journal.

THE SCHEME OF GOV. WISE to take forcible possession of the public offices at Washington and turn out Col. Fremont, in case he should be elected, was, it seems, formally communicated not only to Charles J. Faulkner, now our Minister to France, who thought it "an easy thing to do," but also to the Governors of the Southern States generally. At a late Union meeting in Knoxville, Tennessee, Judge Bailey, formerly of Georgia, stated this as a fact. The Knoxville Whig says:

> "The Judge made one startling disclosure, which was new to us all. He said that, during the Presidential contest, Governor Wise had addressed letters to all the Southern Governors—and that the one to the Governor of Florida had been shown to him—in which Wise said that he had an army in readiness to prevent Fremont from taking his seat, if elected, and asking the co-operation of those to whom he wrote."

In remarking upon this, the Louisville Journal says that it is "unquestionably true that Governor Wise did, in 1856, write exactly such letters as Judge Bailey describes. He was as deep-dyed a traitor then as Old Brown has since been. It was well that Old Brown should be hung at Charlestown; but we are by no means sure that it wouldn't have been better if Brown and Wise had dangled at the opposite ends of a rope thrown over a beam or the limb of a tree, a hundred pound weight being attached to Wise's coat-tail to establish an equilibrium.

SPEAKER ELECTED!—Since writing the above we have received telegraphic despatches announcing the election of Pennington, of New Jersey, a Black Republican. It is said that Pennington never endorsed Helper's infamous book, therefore is better than Sherman. As for us we can see no difference—if any it is in Sherman's favor. We will say why hereafter.—Winchester (Tenn.) Jour.

The same paper refuses to publish an advertisement of a New York hat merchant, because he don't go down to Charleston to start business.

A REPORTER IN CHURCH.—An amusing though not very decorous scene, recently took place on Sunday, at the church of Colton, a little village near Rugeley, in Staffordshire, Eng. Mr. Horsfall, M. P., and the Rev. A. Seaton, Rector of the parish, have been at war for some time past, and the Rector having on former occasions spoken against his opponent from the pulpit, a shorthand writer was sent in one Sunday to report the Rev. gentleman's words. The clergyman soon caught sight of the paper and pencil, and protested against the reporter's presence, desiring the church-warden to remove him.—This the church-warden had no power to do, and the reporter declined to go. The result was that the clergyman broke off the service, and remarking on the conduct of persons who "can neither enter the kingdom of Heaven themselves nor allow other people to enter there," dismissed the congregation.

A FAT COUPLE.—The Easton (Pa.) Express says:—Mr. and Mrs. Annin, residing near the High Bridge of the N. J. Central Railroad, are supposed to be the largest couple in this country. The gentleman's weight is 700 pounds, and the lady's weight 500. Mr. Annin's age is about 45, and Mrs. Annin's about 40. It requires six yards of cassimere for Mr. Annin's pants and nine yards of cloth for a coat. He and his wife keep a public house at a place called Peg's Pebble. It is said that Barnum, of New York Museum, offered the couple $1,500 per year and their expenses, if they would come to New York, but they refused, telling him they did not wish to be looked at so much. They began to increase in size about seventeen years ago.

Obituary.

DEATH OF WM. E. BURTON.—We regret to announce the death of Mr. Wm. Evans Burton, the distinguished comedian and author, who breathed his last at his residence 174 Hudson street, on Friday morning, Feb. 10, in the fifty-seventh year of his age. He has long been unwell, and his sickness for the past few months has confined him to his bed, a sufferer from very severe pain.

Mr. Burton was the son of an English Printer, and was born in London in 1804.—He has resided in this country since he was 30 years of age, having arrived here in 1834. Intended for the Church he received a classical education, but at the age of eighteen he assumed the direction of his father's printing office and edited a monthly magazine. His success as an amateur performer led him to become an actor, and after several years experience in the Norwich Circuit, he appeared with success at the Haymarket in 1832, being then twenty-eight years old. He wrote several dramatic pieces, one of which "Ellen Wareham," was played at five theatres in London on the same evening.

During his residence in this country he was the lessee of several theatres in the chief Atlantic cities, but resided principally in New York and Philadelphia. In the latter city he erected a National Theatre at his own cost, and in 1837 he started the "Gentleman's Magazine." He was proprietor of the Opera House in this city when it was burned in 1841. In 1847 he purchased Palmo's Opera House in Chambers street, where he managed dramatic performances with popular favor for ten years.

In 1856, he purchased the Metropolitan Theatre, now known as the Winter Garden, but retired therefrom something more than a year ago. As an actor he excelled in a wide range of eccentric and comic parts. The comedy of the "Serious Family," in which he impersonated "Aminidab Sleek," was played by him nightly for one whole season, and was several times revived by him. His last appearance on the stage was at Niblo's Garden, under the management of Mr. E. Eddy.

He played a round of his favorite characters, including "Aminidab Sleek" in the Serious Family, Toodles in the comedy of that name, Ebenezer Sudden in the Breach of Promise, and those who saw him in this character and heard his horrifying exclamation of "Good God!" when he heard that Mrs. Trapper had poisoned her first husband, will never forget him; his manner of making that exclamation always brought down the house. He also played "Toby Tramp" in the Mummy, "Mrs. Vanderpants" in Wanted a Thousand Milliners, "Capt. Cuttle" in Dombey and Son, and several others, always securing a full house whenever he appeared. He made felicitous delineations of many of Skakspeare's humorous characters, and possessed a very full Shaksperian library. He edited the "Literary Souvenir" for many years, and in 1858, compiled a "Cyclopædia of Wit and Humor," 2 vol. royal 8 vo.

THE CASE of Milo Smith against Isabelle Fay, et al, was tried and decided last week, in the Third Judicial Circuit, before Judge Mann, in favor of the plaintiff. This quiets the title to a large and valuable portion of the city of Stevens Point. Judge Strope of this village was counsel for the plaintiff, and Judge Wheeler, of Berlin, for the defendant.—Stanton Times.

THE SENTINEL.

TWENTY STEPS TO ONE WOMAN'S HEART.

As Ed. jumped on the green bank, which here slopes down to the water's edge, he exclaimed:

"Now for the prize money! that is, the viands. I've a stiff neck, a black eye, and a game leg."

"And I am spavined for life," said Jerry, "the fellow crushed me over the sharp edge of his tub. If we ever meet on terra firma, I pray the gods to let me at him in a square stand up."

"We shall meet at Phillippi," added Greenway. "The moon came out in time to show all our faces. "I'd know that long savage among a thousand. Had it not been for Billet, Jerry's back would have been folded up like—well, like a book, to speak by the letter. Where is our valiant Briton?"

"Gone up to the house with Jerry," said Billet. "Did you notice, while the conflict raged, he was trying to compromise matters by moral suasion, singing out in terrible aspirations that 'It won't do any good to fight about it, gentlemen. We will give up the woman,' and such like nonsense?"

"Aspirations, did you say?" asked Ed. "I presume you mean ex-haspirations. I noticed that just as I spread myself to commence the onslaught—after that fervent and beautiful appeal to Young America, which you probably noticed and admired—that he kept hold of my pantaloons; and when I fell across to boat, I liked to have dragged him into the water."

Having hauled the boat up out of reach of the flood-tide, the party then went up to the house which stands on the apex of the beautiful little island. Clinton vowing "by all the gods of Greece, that if Jerry did not provide the most unctuous supper ever spread, he, for one, would swear off ever getting into another scrape for him."

The only house upon this island was occupied by a couple who provided entertainment for the sailors who landed there, and occasionally catering to the chance excursionists, who, lured by the favorable pic-nic spot, came up from the city to enjoy themselves. The Landlord's name was Berber, as Jerry had stated. Whatever may have been his reputation among those who knew him best, we are unable to say. He was a great red-faced fellow, somewhat inclined to corpulency and evidently, from his language, was once a seaman. He kept in one part of his house a well-stocked bar, the sanded sitting room looking out over a piazza, and the long sloping lawn, upon the open sea. It was an out-of-the-way place to bring a woman, who needed care and attention. Jerry himself knew little of the inmates of the house, beyond the fact that they had always treated him hospitably when in any of his fishing or yachting excursions he had stopped there.

With a heavy shawl about her person, and partly conducted by Linton and Christmas, the girl approached the house. The trio were somewhat surprised to see lights at the windows and to hear loud voices, as though of revelry, and stopping to consider a moment, the rest of the party came up.

A short conversation resulted in Clinton's going in and shortly afterwards appearing with the host holding a candle, and doing his best to shield it from the blasts of air with his fingers.

"Here's our party—and here's our Commodore," said Ed, pointing to Jerry.

"What can I do for you, gentlemen?" asked the landlord, addressing the darkness in front of him with a comical look of habitual politeness which being directed in the wrong direction only caused Clinton to laugh.

"You can give this lady a room and see that she is properly cared for," spoke Jerry, emerging from the gloom. "Call up your wife, but first let us in, through some other door."

"You've got such a thing as a dining room about you, I suppose," added Ed. "If you have, garnish it with your biggest table and ornament it with your larder, for we've come to supper!"

Mr. Berber seemed to gradually become conscious of the nature of the demand, and shortly afterwards Jerry delivered his fair charge to the woman of the house, with directions to give her the best she had and not let any one run away with her. And when he saw his portege conducted to an upper chamber, felt satisfied.

"Here's my dining room, gents," Mr. Berber observed, as he ushered the young men into his largest room and looked on with curiosity at the preparations for a supper. The Hamper was brought from the boat, and Jerry's provisions consisting of turkey and ham and cold tongue were spread on the board in anything but artistical order. During the progress of the preparations, Chris tried to ingratiate himself into the favor of the landlord and opened a conversation by saying—

"You mus'nt think hard of us—it is'nt often we stretch a spree as far as this."

"Bless your jolly heart, I shan't think hard of you if you tear my house down, provided, of course, you leave me enough to put it up again. But there was a bit of a squall hatchin' to-night and I did'nt expect company—least wise such as you. 'Tis'nt often as young gentlemen come as far as this with such a wind on. I'll warrant, man, you did'nt meet a single boat the whole way!"

"We did though," answered Christmas, "and had their company for some time."

"That was good luck, I warrant me, for it is'nt often you'd meet company here about at midnight—and what became of the rest of 'em—another jolly party like yourselves, I dare say."

"Between you and me, they came near going to the bottom, for they were a rascally trio of cut-throats."

"A—trio—what's that?"

"Trio—there were three of them," continued Christmas without noticing the interest his narration was exciting.

"Oh there was—well as you was saying—cut-throats."

"Yes, night prowlers, but we finished 'em, they rather left us before we got in here—"

Just at this point of the conversation, Clinton interrupted them by pointing to the champagne bottles and advising Christmas to "fall to." Berber immediately taking his leave.

"Now then," said Jerry from the head of the table where he was industriously sawing at a ham. "I propose a council of war."

"Let us attack the victuals first," interrupted Ed.

"Order, gentlemen," commenced Stansbury, who was standing by the side of Linton admiring the manner in which the latter carved. "Order, I say, and let us understand this business."

"What business do you allude to—if it's the carving of that pork I'm interested enough already," continued Clinton.

"I want to hear your opinions about this adventure to-night," pursued Jerry. "My own is that we have lit on a regular Police Gazette item. Does it not strike some of you that a deep, a damning plot is wound about that young woman?"

Billet, whose mouth being uncomfortably filled with sandwich, here moved that Greenway narrate what he learned on the hill-side.

"I overheard enough to convince me that the fellows were hired ruffians," Greenway answered. "There can be no doubt of that, and the young woman was either to be killed or abducted, but through what motive it is difficult to say. The most singular thing that has occurred to me, is that I remember seeing this very young woman's daguerreotype at Chartsey's, and if I am any judge, she was attired in the height of fashion. Her singular beauty attracted my attention."

"A romance in real life," remarked Ed.—"Jerry, deal the sardines."

"Silence for Christmas!" shouted several voices, as the little man deliberately rose.

He desired to make a short speech. He thought the gentlemen by this time could see the folly of such adventures, and he hoped the young woman would be sent back, and no more said about the affair. When it came to get daylight on it, it would look shamefull.

"Is it our duty, gentlemen, to go about o'nights overhauling society to look for stolen property? Will it rebound to our credit, I ask you seriously, gentlemen, to have it said that we carried off a female, a woman—and of what character none of us can say—away from her home? Look at it. There is danger, absolute danger, of our going too far, and I counsel reflection."

Here Christmas sat down and applied himself rapidly to the champagne.

Clinton asked leave to reply, and without waiting for the favor to be granted solemnly mounted a chair:

"Brother Alpines," he said, "I have a painful duty to perform. There has long been a painful suspicion in the minds of many of us that we had a Judas among us. It is my distressing task to announce the suspicion well founded. We have a traitor here, false to our interests and our principles. Who it is, I need not say; but I propose that we deal with him firmly, but energetically—that we leave him on this Island to Robinson Crusoe it here for a few months. Where the terrible punishment of being deprived of meringues and pickled salmon and pale ale will speedily consummate our vengeance."

Although this effusion called forth the hearty approbation of Billet and Stansbury, Jerry and Greenway were not disposed to see any humor in it, and the latter, without regarding Ed., proposed that Jerry should seek Miss Berber and in her company solicit a narration of the young woman's wrongs."

"I object," interrupted Clinton. "Beyond doubt the young woman's wrongs are already given over to the safe keeping of Somnus; besides, I have several toasts to offer and don't want any one to leave the room."

BININGER'S OLD LONDON DOCK GIN

(ESTABLISHED 1778.)

SOLE IMPORTERS,

No. 338 Broad Street, New York.

THIS DELICIOUS TONIC, ESPECIALLY for the use of the Medical Profession and the Family,

Possesses those INTRINSIC medicinal properties, [Tonic and Diuretic] which belong to an OLD AND PURE GIN.

"The business of manufacturing spurious Gins, and offering them as beverages, under the titles, "Aromatic," "Cordial," "Medicated," &c., has become so common that the public are justly suspicious of nearly everything that is offered under similar forms, and the trade has thus been brought into disrepute. It has remained for our house (established in 1778) to supply the pressing popular need, and to inaugurate a new era in the history of the Trade. We trust that our established reputation—founded upon eighty years of experience—abundantly vindicates our claim to public confidence.

A comparison of "Bininger's Old London Dock Gin" with others bearing similar names, will establish its superiority, and make other Caution unnecessary.

THE GREAT WONDER

Of the Nineteenth Century,

PROFESSOR WOOD'S

HAIR RESTORATIVE.

SAYS THE ST. LOUIS, (MO.) DEMOCRAT: Below, we publish a letter to Dr. Wood, of this city, from a gentleman in Maine, which speaks glowingly of the superior merits of his hair tonic.—Such evidence must have its effect, when coming from a reliable source. If certificates are guarantees of truth, the Dr. needs no encomiums, nor useless puffery from the press:

BATH, MAINE, Jan. 20, 1856.

Professor O. J. Wood & Co:

GENTLEMEN: Having my attention called a few months since to the highly beneficial effects of your hair restorative, I was induced to make application of it upon my own hair, which had become quite gray, probably one-third white; my whiskers were of same character. Some three months since I procured a bottle of your hair restorative, and used it. I soon found it was proving what I had wished. I used it about twice a week. I have since procured another bottle, of which I have used some. I can now certify to the world that the gray or white hair has resumed its natural color, and I believe more soft and glossy than it has been before for twenty-five years. I am now sixty years old; my good wife at the age of fifty-two, has used it with the same effect.

The above notice I deem due to you for your valuable discovery. I am assured that whoever will rightly use, as per directions, will not have occasion to contradict my statements. I am a citizen of this city and a resident here for the last fifteen years, and am known to nearly every one here and adjoining towns. Any use you may make of the above with my name attached, is at your service, as I wish to preserve the beauties of nature in others as well as myself. I am, truly, yours, A. C. RAYMOND.

Baltimore, Jan. 23, 1858.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor Wood—Dear Sir: Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever in New Orleans in 1854, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to answer as the very thing needed. My hair [illegible] thick and glossy, and no words can express [illegible] is now [illegible] to you in giving to the afflicted such my obligation. FINLEY JOHNSON.

[illegible] Bragg, is a minister [illegible] a treas[illegible] the Orthodox

The undersigned, Rev. J. [illegible] regular standing, and pastor [illegible] in [illegible] ch at Brookfield, Mass. He is a gent[illegible] great [illegible] influence and universally loved. WM. DYER.

Brookfield, January 12, 1858.

Professo[illegible] Wood—Dear Sir. Having made a trial of your Hair R[illegible]storative, it gives me pleasure to say that its effect [illegible] has been excellent in removing inflammation, dandruff [illegible] and a constant tendency to itching with which I have be[illegible] troubled from my childhood; and has also restored [illegible] my hair, which was becoming gray, to its original color. I have used no other article with anything like the same pleasure or profit.

Yours truly, J. K. BRAGG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large, medium and small; the small holds ½ a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion and retails for $3 a bottle.

THE SENTINEL.

COMMERCIAL.

Wednesday Evening, February 15th, 1860.

Money Matters.

The only change to speak of in the money market is a trifle less stringency than was experienced a few days ago. The demand for money at present is light, and consequently the banks find little difficulty in taking all the offerings of regular business paper. Exchange continues steady at former rates, selling at 2 per cent. premium.

Commercial.

Receipts by Railroad for the 24 hours ending noon to-day include:

Flour, bbls	327	Dressed hogs	85
Wheat, bus	2,974	Hides, No	47
Oats, bus	3,069	Poultry, lbs	300
Rye, bus	40	Hay, lbs	9,465
Corn, bus	100	Grass seed, bus	18
Barley, bus	45

To-day was one of the dullest days in the wheat market since the opening of the year. The sales in all did not much exceed 2,000 bushels. No. 1 declined 1c, selling at 98c in store and 99c delivered. Extra held out at previous prices, $1,02@1,03, but was extremely dull. A great deal of uncertainty exists as to the future course of the market, and although occasionally there are parties bold enough to take heavy risks on the chances of high prices, it can not be concealed that there is a general distrust in the maintenance of present prices, and hence the unsettled feeling which has restricted business more or less for some time past.

Flour was also dull, owing to the depressed state of the New York market, and the tendency was downward although no sales occurred upon which we could fix an actual decline. The sales reported on 'change were 291 bbls at $3,50@4,50 for common Superfine to good country Extra.

Coarse grains of all kinds are dull, but without any essential change in prices.

Hides steady. Hogs and provisions firm.

The Highest Price of the Season.—Messrs. Scribb & Flowers, Commission Merchants, sold to Layton & Plankinton, last evening, a lot of forty-four hogs, averaging 250 lbs, at the round price of $6,90 per cwt.—The total amount paid for them was $512. They were all raised by one man, Thos. Bussey, of Albion, Dane county.

Milwaukee Club at Cincinnati.—The Cincinnati Gazette of Friday contains the following paragraph having some local interest hereabouts:

Prices of wheat took a long step downward, closing at 125@130c for white, and 123@125c for red. The receipts were 4,075 bus. Some lots of Milwaukee Club were received via the Indianapolis road to-day, from Chicago. The high prices established here induced millers to send orders to Chicago, and with about the best arrival quotations fell 8@10c per bus.

Chicago, Feb. 14.—The wheat market to-day was more active and prices advanced 1@1½c on No. 2 spring. There is an active demand for good to choice brands of spring wheat flour, and sales of spring extras were made at 4,72@4,95.

Corn was more quiet and settled. There was, however, an improvement in prices, and the market closed dull at 42c for No. 1. Oats in fair demand at a decline of 1@2c. Rye steady with a good inquiry for lots in store. Barley quiet and in limited request.

Provisions firm. Dressed hogs quiet and steady.—Timothy seed steady and in good demand. Clover dull. Highwines firmer.

Flour—Receipts 1,496 bus. Sales 200 bbls "Ionic" spring extra at 4,95 del; 450 bbls choice spring extra at 4,90 del; 100 bbls "Princeton" do at 4,87½ on track; 60 bbls "Stone Mills" do at 4,80 del; 200 bbls good spring extra on p. t.; 100 bbls "Batavia" do at $4,72 on track; 100 bbls low grade extra at 4,65 del; 194 bbls "Scott's" spring super at 3,80 del.

Wheat—Receipts 1,225 bus; sales 300 bus No. 2 spring at 95c in store; 3,000 bus do at 97c; 1,000 bus do at 97½c in store; 600 bus do at $1 on track; 300 bus do at $1 del; 500 bus at 1,01½ del; 300 bus No. 1 at 1,03 on track.

Cincinnati, Feb. 11th.—There was a good demand for bulk meats to-day, chiefly from city smokers, and about 600,000 lbs sold at 6¼ and 8¼ for shoulders and sides. There was also a sale of 100,000 lbs clear sides at 9¼. The offerings of bacon were light, there being but little out of smoke. The demand, however, was quite moderate at the asking rates, viz: 7¼ for shoulders and 9½ for sides; of the latter 60 hhds sold at 9¼@9¾. Lard continues to be held at 10¾ for prime barrel, but there are no buyers at over 10½@10¾.—Mess pork was hardly mentioned, but holders are firm at $18 for the best city brands. The flour market is unsettled and depressed. The sales were small, at $5,50@5,75 for extra, and transactions were also reported in superfine at $5,50; but for the latter buyers did not generally offer over $5,30@5,35, and even at these figures, as matters now stand, large amounts could not be placed readily. The advices from New York are more favorable, but prices are there are still considerably below our currency, relatively, being $5,50@5,90 for qualities corresponding with what passes here as superfine. The receipts continue liberal, being 2,226 bbls to-day, with exports of only 405 bbls.—Gazette.

The Great Secret at Last Discovered!!

JUNIUS JUDSON,
PATENTEE AND MANUFACTURER OF JUDSON'S PATENT
GOVERNOR VALVES, FOR REGULATING THE MOTION OF STEAM ENGINES,

WARRANTED THE MOST PERFECT Governor of Steam Power in the world, and like all really great inventions, the most simple. Manufactured by Judson & Snow, at Rochester, N. Y., Selye Buildings, near R. R. Depot.
☞ Shop Rights for sale.

CAUTION TO INFRINGERS.

Patent issued in the United States, Nov. 5th, 1850. Reissued, Jan. 4th, 1851. Second Patent, March 4th, 1851. Patented also in Great Britain and the Canadas, June 6th 1851.

This improvement consists in making regulating valves to open with a rapidly increasing ratio of opening, by increasing the width of the opening made in the valve—or by accelerating the opening motion of the ordinary valves in use—or by combining increased width of opening, with accelerated valve motion. My patent Valves and Governors are so arranged as to give the resistance to the piston's motion, (or retard of the engine,) the power to open the valve just the exact amount of aperture necessary to counteract that resistance; and from the aperture, by the addition of equal amounts of resistance, notwithstanding that the action of the governor is continually decreasing in its effects.

I therefore reverse the action of valves combined with governors, as heretofore used. And as this effect can be produced by many different mechanical devices, (apparently not similar, but really indentical with my improvement,) by which infringers have imposed upon the public, I therefore caution and request all persons interested, to examine carefully all alleged improvements in valves or governors, to see if the application of this truth or principle, first discovered and applied by me, is not involved in their arrangements;—and thereby prevent a fraud upon the purchaser and inventor, both of which are at present much annoyed by their piratical depredations. H. H. BRIGHTMAN, Agent, Milwaukee.

THE GREATEST MEDICAL DISCOVERY OF THE AGE.

MR. KENNEDY, OF ROXBURY, HAS discovered in one of our common pasture weeds a remedy that cures
EVERY KIND OF HUMOR, FROM
THE WORST SCROFULA DOWN TO A COMMON PIMPLE.

He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases, both thunder humor. He has now in his possession over one hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston.

Two bottles are warranted to cure a nursing sore mouth.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two or three bottles will cure the system of biles.

Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst canker in the stomach.

Three or five bottles are warranted to cure the worst kind of Erysipelas.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

One bottle will cure scaly eruptions of the skin.

Two or three bottles are warranted to cure the worst kind of ringworm.

Two or three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism.

Three or four bottles are warranted to cure salt rheum.

Five to eight bottles will cure the worst case of scrofula.

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure is warranted when the above quantity is taken.

Roxbury, Mass.

Dear Madam:—The reputation of the Medical Discovery, in curing all kinds of humors, is so well established, by the unanimous voice of all who have ever used it, that I need not say anything on the subject, as the most skillful physicians and the most careful druggists in the country are unanimous in its praise.

In presenting the Medical Discovery to your notice, I do it with a full knowledge of its curative powers, in relieving all, and curing most of the diseases to which you are unfortunately so liable. That most excruciating disease to an affectionate mother.

NURSING SORE MOUTH

is cured as if by a miracle; your own temper is restored to its natural sweetness, and your babe from short and fretful naps to calm and sweet slumbers; and the Medical Discovery becomes a fountain of blessings to your husband and household.

In the more advanced stages of

CANKER

it extends to the stomach, ensuing

DYSPEPSIA

which is nothing but canker on the stomach; then on the intestines and creating a sinking, gone feeling, and an indifference even to the cares of your family.

Your stomach is

RAW AND INFLAMED,

your food distresses you, and you can only take certain kinds; and even of that your system does not get half the nourishment it contains, as the acrimonious fluid of the canker eats it up; then your complexion loses its bloom and becomes sallow or greenish, and your best day is gone. For want of nourishment your system becomes loose and flabby, and the fibres of your body become relaxed. Then follows a train of diseases which the Medical Discovery is peculiarly adapted to

CURE;

Palpitation of the heart, pain in the side, weakness of the spine and small of the back, pain of the hip-joint when you retire, irregularity of the bowels, and also that most excruciating of diseases the

PILES.

How many thousands of poor women are suffering from this disease and pining away a miserable life, and their next door neighbor does not know the cause. I wish to impress on your mind that good old proverb, "an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure." In the

MEDICAL DISCOVERY

you have both the preventative and the cure, with this great and good quality, that it will never, under any circumstances, do you an injury. Yours truly,
DONALD KENNEDY.

DR. CHURCHILL'S REMEDY.

WINCHESTER'S GENUINE PREPARATION OF THE HYPOPHOSPHITES
OF LIME AND OF SODA,
(Made from the Formula of Dr. J. F. Churchill,)
FOR THE PREVENTION AND CURE OF CONSUMPTION!

THE SUCCESS OF THIS NEW REMEDY, (discovered by Dr. Churchill, of Paris,) is obtaining the most UNBOUNDED POPULARITY throughout Europe and the United States. It is a purely SCIENTIFIC PREPARATION, and acts with INVARIABLE EFFICACY in all stages of Pulmonary and Nervous Diseases.

This Remedy has not only a curative effect, but will, if used wherever there exists a suspicion of the disease, PREVENT ITS DEVELOPMENT, and thus act as a preventive with regard to Consumption, just as vaccination does with regard to small-pox.

What the Medical Profession Say.

"In no instance have I found the Remedy to fail."—Dr. Churchill.

"I have used your preparation of the Hypophosphites with the most happy effect."—C. Fisher, M. D. Lynville, Ill.

"I have been astonished in witnessing the good effects of the Hypophosphites. The statements in your pamphlet are not at all exaggerated. My patient was just entering the last stage of tubercular consumption."—S. Moses, M. D., Hoosic Falls, N. Y.

"They exert an important remedial influence over the tubercular disease by improving the nervous strength and invigorating the nutritive functions."—Dr. W. E. Rust, Morristown, N. J.

"I have derived more satisfaction from the use of your Hypophosphites than from all other forms of medication combined."—Dr. Geo. W. Maris, Columbus, O.

"If, on the earliest appearance of the symptoms, the patient takes daily about ten grains of the Hypophosphites, he will speedily find himself in the enjoyment of such health as he, perhaps, had never known in his life before."

"Winchester's Hypophosphites are unexceptional in their preparation."—Am. Druggists' Circular.

"Mr. Winchester is worthy of all confidence, and devotes himself enthusiastically to these preparations in all their variety of combination. * * Prepared strictly by Dr. Churchill's method."—D. Meredith Reese, M. D., New York.

"Lowell, O., July 5, 1859.—I have had several cases given up by attending physicians who are now exempt from all the symptoms of pulmonary disease.—I have used the Remedy in my own case, with decided success. It was regarded as hopeless by physicians and friends, and even by myself, under the 'old treatment.' I am now able to ride, in attending the sick, as many miles, perhaps, in a day, as any other physician in the country."—W. F. Clark, M. D.

"The Hypophosphites are most appropriate Remedies in large class of affections resulting from loss of nervous force."—Boston Medical and Surgical Journal.

Dr. Churchill's Work on Consumption,
IS NOW READY.

The Hypophosphites may be used with incurable success in Chronic Bronchitis, Asthma, Dyspepsia, and in all "Nervous" Disorders.

Make no Delay!

Consumptives, in any stage of the disease, should resort immediately to the use of the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda. "Winchester's Genuine Preparation" (in simple syrup), in extra large bottles, is "chemically pure"; is the combination proposed by Dr. Churchill "for general use"; and is prepared according to his original Formula.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

THROUGH A TRIAL OF many years and through every nation of civilized men, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has been found to afford more relief and to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Cases of apparently settled consumption have been cured by it, and thousands of sufferers who were deemed beyond the reach of human aid have been restored to their friends and usefulness, to sound health and the enjoyments of life, by this all-powerful antidote to diseases of the lungs and throat.—The dry, hacking cough, the glassy eye, and the pale, thin features of him who was lately lusty and strong whisper to all but him Consumption. He tries every thing; but the disease is gnawing at his vitals, and shows its fatal symptoms more and more over all his frame. He is taking the Cherry Pectoral now; it has stopped his cough and made his breathing easy; his sleep is sound at night; his appetite returns, and with it his strength. The dart which pierced his side is broken. Scarcely any neighborhood can be found which has not some living trophy like this to shadow forth the virtues which have won for the Cherry Pectoral an imperishable renown. But its usefulness does not end here. Nay, it accomplishes more by prevention than cure. The countless colds and coughs which it cures are the seed which would have ripened into a dreadful harvest of incurable diseases. Influenza, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping Cough, and all irritations of the throat and lungs are easily cured by the Cherry Pectoral if taken in season. Every family should have it by them, and they will find it an invaluable protection from the insidious prowler which carries off the parent sheep from many a flock, the darling lamb from many a home.

Authenticated evidence of these facts, with directions for the treatment of each complaint, may be found in Ayer's American Almanac, of which we publish three millions, and scatter them broadcast over the earth, in order that the sick everywhere may have before them the information it contains.—Druggists and dealers in medicine generally have them for distribution gratis, and also for sale these remedies, prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

ARE YOU SICK?

Then you can't be cured too soon. Don't delay until your complaint is incurable, and then mourn when it is too late. Four-fifths of all the diseases which people the church yards, might be cured by Ayer's Cathartic Pills, if taken in season. Don't go dragging through the Spring, faint, sleepy and listless, because your blood is loaded with bile. Don't wear the Headache, Heartburn, and their kindred disorders, because the stomach is foul. Don't parade yourself around the world, covered with Pimples, Blotches, Ulcers, Sores, and all or any of the unclean diseases of the skin, because your system wants cleansing. Don't show yourself about, lean, haggard, all caved in, because your Stomach and Bowels need strengthening into healthy action.—Ayer's Pills set these things right as surely as water quenches fire. They purify the body and blood, and restore their functions into healthy activity which you can feel as quickly as they are taken.—They are the one great medical wonder of the age, recognized by all who know their virtues, and many thousands know them. Take the Cherry Pectoral for a cough, and the Pills for all derangements requiring a purgative medicine.

Prepared by JAMES C. AYER, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass., and sold by JOHN RICE, Milwaukee, J. H. REED & CO., Chicago, and all Dealers in Medicine everywhere.
